Beyond Media Signs Technology Partnership Deal with Green Man Gaming

Highlights:

- Beyond Media is partnering with Green Man Gaming, a world leading eCommerce technology platform for the launch of its entertainment platform, the Y-hub.
- Y-hub will be available to provide content for some of the biggest PC and laptop manufacturers in the world.
- The Y-hub users will be able to access Green Man Gaming's award winning shopfront, enjoying an enormous selection of games from its patented, cloud based, global games delivery system.
- The global games market is estimated to be worth $99.6 Billion USD in 2016-with PC games accounting for 27% of that revenue¹.
- Continues Beyond Media's strategy to provide device manufacturers with next generation content.

Background - Beyond Media

Beyond Media has developed the Y-Hub platform which enables device manufacturers to provide 2D/3D/4K/AR content to its customers and is assembling leading global enterprises in their field to create and profit from a new standard for how digital content is acquired and experienced on a global scale.

Ongoing development of the Beyond Media technology continues with the company on track to showcase its technology in less than a month at CES (the worlds largest consumer electronics fair). Concurrently, management have focused its efforts on forming and finalizing several key commercial agreements with leading global enterprises within the consumer electronics and content industries. These activities are expected to deliver revenues directly from the consumption of Beyond Media technology in the very near term.

Green Man Gaming Agreement

To this end Yonder & Beyond Ltd (ASX: YNB) is pleased to announce that Beyond Media has entered into a technology partnership with Green Man Gaming, one of the worlds leading digital games eCommerce platforms. As part of the partnership a Green Man Gaming shopfront will be available to Y-Hub customers wishing to purchase games from over 500 publishers.

Green Man Gaming is an award-winning global online games eCommerce technology platform that is regarded as a leader in the rapidly growing gaming industry.

This agreement and the partnership with Green Man Gaming underlines Beyond Media's strategy of engaging innovative, market leading partners to create the next generation of content delivery platforms for the world leading device manufacturers and content publishers.

Commercial outcome

The partnership with Green Man Gaming is a significant step towards creating a fully integrated content delivery platform where users can access all forms of digital content through a seamless interface.

Beyond Media will complete the technical implementation with support from Green Man Gaming. Work on the Y-Hub has already commenced and will be launched in Las Vegas at CES in January 2017.

Yonder & Beyond and Beyond Media CEO, Shashi Fernando said, "This agreement highlights Beyond Media's outstanding ability to attract world leading partners to participate in the development and execution of our internationally recognised content delivery platform. We are proud to have partnered with Green Man Gaming. With their enormous product catalogue, award winning shopfront and patented digital delivery system the Y-Hub will provide a seamless experience for gamers on some of the biggest manufacturers of PC's and laptops in the world".

Paul Sulyok, Founder & CEO at Green Man gaming, said "We are delighted to be partnering with Beyond Media for the exciting launch of the Y-hub. Offering a Green Man Gaming shopfront and patented technology platform to millions of global gamers will deliver significant market benefits to the developers and publisher partners of the amazing games in our catalogue".
